Event Report:

The Meeting Youth Clubs, hosted in the city of Berlin, Germany, brought together enthusiastic participants eager to explore the realm of youth engagement and community development. With a backdrop of cultural diversity and innovation, this gathering aimed to showcase the importance of youth clubs and introduce the comprehensive Guide developed under the auspices of the Wellhoody project.

Through interactive discussions and engaging activities, participants gained insights into the vital role that youth clubs play in fostering a sense of belonging, personal development, and social cohesion among the younger generation.

The agenda of the first Youth Club meeting was carefully crafted to ensure a dynamic and informative session.

Agenda of 1. Youth Club Meeting:

1. Sign-in sheet
2. Introduction of Facilitators
3. Introduction of Participants through Introduction games
4. Presentation of the Organization and its goals
5. Presentation of the Wellhoody project
6. Presentation of the Wellhoody Youth Network Guide
7. Future steps
8. Others

Central to the meeting was the presentation of the Wellhoody project, an innovative initiative aimed at empowering young people and enhancing their well-being through tailored programs and resources. Attendees had the privilege to learn about the project's goals, methodologies, and anticipated impact on youth development in local communities.

A highlight of the session was the unveiling of the Wellhoody Youth Network Guide, a comprehensive resource designed to equip youth clubs with practical tools, strategies, and best practices for effective engagement and program implementation. With a wealth of information and actionable insights, the guide promised to be a valuable resource for youth leaders and facilitators seeking to create meaningful experiences for their peers.

Looking ahead, participants engaged in discussions about future steps and opportunities for collaboration, laying the groundwork for ongoing engagement and collective action. As the meeting drew to a close, attendees expressed their enthusiasm for the journey ahead, eager to leverage their newfound knowledge and connections to drive positive change in their communities.

Conclusion

As a conclusion to the first Youth Club Meeting with the youth, the participants have agreed that the next Youth Club Meeting will take place on May 8, 2024. Additionally, they have decided to name the Youth Club "BRUNCHUB TALKS". Furthermore, the facilitators and the team from Youth Power Germany will collaborate with the youth to prepare a Canva poster and brainstorm topics for the upcoming meeting. Some of the proposed topics include Mental Health, Stress, and Youth in the Digital Environment.

Attendee feedback:

Overall, the feedback from attendees of the Connect Club meeting was largely positive, with many expressing satisfactions with the event. They found the meeting content relevant and helpful, though some minor improvements were suggested for clarity and focus.
