Wellhoody Connector Club France, was organised at the Bottom Théâtre à Tulle, by our partners LE LABA. The aim of this workshop was to encourage reflection and exchanges on diversity and well-being through fun and participatory activities. Each participant shared a personal experience where he or she experienced a feeling of being welcomed and accepted, or conversely, being rejected. These testimonies, sometimes harsh, highlighted the importance of their theatrical practice as a possibility of freeing themselves from certain difficult experiences.

Our partners Dramblys organised a Club in Albacete Spain, and named it: Young Voice, focusing on empowering youth voices, while in Sweden (partner Folkuniversitetet) and Ireland (Momentum Educate + Innovate) our partners focused on building youth resilience and stress management while utilising the power of diversity.

There are different objectives depending on who is reading this guide:

DIVERSE YOUTH

The Connector Clubs will cultivate a supportive, safe environment where members can gain confidence in new life skills: civic participation, future planning, socializing, communication, self-care, mindfulness, increased level of meaningful digital participation and socialization.

YOUTH WORKERS

More assured responsiveness to diversity, more active participation in society.

YOUTH EDUCATORS

Will get firsthand knowledge of understanding the target groups, their wellbeing needs and objectives, intercultural communication. Strategies and techniques that enable effective skills development in collaborative learning approaches. New ways of facilitating peer-to-peer interaction.

- The STRUCTURES & ORGANISATION – Cooperation, networking (including network creation and strategies) and peer-learning activities.
- SOCIETY in general will benefit from great cohesion of youth communities, from knowledgeable members & inclusive communities.

In Germany, our partner Youth Power with their youth participants decided to name their Connecotr Club a Brunch Hub.

As part of their Youth Club activity, they held the workshop "Oxygen Body" with Darwin Díaz! They received many inputs on how to ease day-to-day life through small actions and exercises to increase their well-being, body awareness, and longevity.
